ASSOCIATED PRESS REPORTS BRIEFED.

A TALE OF WAR

The Battle of Anjo Ferry.

History According to the Woyen Writers.

How Capts. Matsaki and Tokiyama Fall Leading Their Troops.

The Japanese Forces Would not be Denied, but Pushed Eagerly into the Fight—The Capture of Asan.

Associated Press Leased-wire Service.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 22.—The Japanese are making history, not only through their troops in the field and their fleets upon the sea, but through their authors and publishers. From T. Sone of the Ta-kata Shokai, which supplies arms and munitions of war to the Mikado, who is now in San Francisco, have been obtained three volumes of war history published in Japanese by the Hakubun Kan Publishing Company of Tokio. Sone is on his way to London and Berlin. Following the story of the Korean rebellion and the sending of Chinese and Japanese troops into the Hermit Kingdom, is the following account of the first land battle:

"Asan was not the first bloody meeting of the nations. Spears and swords had dripped with coolie gore before that sanguinary struggle. The first real fight of the war was at Anjo Ferry on July 28. Capt. Matsaki and Capt. Tokiyama were killed there. The Japanese decided to attack the Chinese by night, but only the officers knew the orders. The soldiers were ordered to prepare for action and rested on their arms. The night of the 28th had begun and the clouds covered the skies, and the darkness was like a wall.

"At midnight the Japanese force was ordered to advance to the attack. Absolute silence was enforced. At 12:30 o'clock the army moved, the left wing leading. When near the Chinese a line of battle was formed and the right wing began the engagement. The commander of the right wing was Capt. Matsaki. One point of his division left Soze and within a half mile crossed a river, knee-deep, and after a like interval waded another stream shoulder-deep and soft at the bottom, twenty-five feet wide, over which there had been a fine bridge which the Chinese in retreating had half destroyed.

"Beyond the river the enemy had made his camp, but had not yet secured, and the watchers sent out the alarm when the Japanese were yet some distance removed.

"A tall fellow got the alarm and shouting, 'The Japanese soldiers could not be destroyed, but rushed eagerly into fighting distance and piled their rifles with skill and deadly effect. The old feud with China was remembered, and every soldier of Japan fought as though he alone was to answer for the rebuke of the encroaching Chinese Empire. The Japanese were few, but they were brave, and the vast hordes of Chinese cooler melted before the onslaught. Hardly one of the Chinese force made a fair resistance, and the petty command of Japanese swept over the fields maiming and killing in the flush of victorious effort."

"The Japanese knew they were going up to Asan. It was dark; the road was unknown to the assaulting party; ponds and marshes were around, into which the soldiers sank and some were drowned. Capt. Tokiyama and twenty of his men met the fate like brave men and Japanese. Those who were not mired down hurried forward, carrying all before them, until a troop of Chinese cavalry was encountered. Capt. Matsaki tried to force a way through the horse-troops. He drew his sword and was in the lead when a bullet pierced him in the thigh. He did not drop his sword, but, using it as a probe, he extricated the bullet and reached the fleshy part. He cried out and fell dead at the hoofs of the horse. His soldiers went on to avenge him, and spared neither man nor horses, but slaughtered all alike, until twenty Chinese soldiers had been struck down. Fighting began at 3 a.m. and continued for thirty minutes before the cloud of Chinese dissipated before the sun.

"Such are some of the incidents of the war as they will go into Japanese history.

WOUNDED TROOPS.

CHEMULPO, Oct. 22.—A detachment of 1800 wounded Japanese has arrived here.

There is a large number of wounded at Seoul. In addition 2100 wounded Japanese have been sent to Japan. At Ping-Yang there are 1200 wounded Chinese in the hospitals. The rebellious Tong-Haks of Southern Korea are restless and only the fact that they are not provided with arms prevents them from breaking out in open revolt and moving upon Seoul, for which many of them have started.

Four hundred Japanese soldiers have been stationed at the King's Palace, Seoul, as the King's brother is believed to be leagued with the Tong-Haks. The Chinese are mobilizing a force at Kien-

Hi and Henry Delaney, brothers of the manager, were held by the court on the charge of conspiracy to defraud. The clerks and employees of the firm were distained for three weeks.

THE JAPANESE FLEET.

LONDON, Oct. 22.—A dispatch from

Tien-Tsin says the report is current that seventeen Japanese warships are now in the harbor of Taku.

Admiral Ito, having assembled at

Ping-Yang Inlet, Thornton Haven, it is said, has never been occupied by the Japanese.

The British Consul's mail-bag was detained for three weeks.

THE BRITISH CONSUL.

Tien-Tsin, Oct. 22.—It is stated from reliable sources that negotiations for peace between China and Japan are proceeding at Seoul.

THE DESPERATE FIGHT.

"The Japanese left wing began to fire its field-pieces and did not cease fire till the fort of the Chinese, who cried to them that their assailants knew great execution was being done. At the same time the Chinese fired a heavy cannon at Saikan, but did not know how to shoot, and some shots fell short, while others passed beyond. Smoke again veiled the earth, and the Japanese fixed bayonets and ran into the fort and began to pierce their enemies, who could not face such ferocious foes, but fled. Saikan was well furnished, but the Japanese reduced the forts and turned the guns against the second line of intrenchments around Asan, which was twenty feet high. The Chinese fought hard to hold their ground, but were forced back toward Asan. In this way the Japanese troops, under Gen.

Oshima, proceeded, and destroyed all the lines before them.

THE RUSSIAN CRISIS

Conjecture Rife as to the Czar's Condition.

Dispatches from the Czarowitch, Grand Duke Vladimir and the Physicians.

A Climax Expected Shortly—Princess Alix at Lividia—Concerning the Marriage and the Succession.

Associated Press Leased-wire Service.

LONDON, Oct. 22.—(By Atlantic Cable.) Today has produced practically nothing to the point in regard to the situation of the Czar. In all the continental capitals and in London there have been streams of callers of all classes at the Russian Embassy. To these, however, little information was vouchsafed, and that little consisted of forebodings.

Prayers and masses are incessantly offered from St. Petersburg to Vladivostock; from Rome to Buenos Ayres. The wild rumors reported yesterday from St. Petersburg were repeated today in still wilder forms. From Moscow comes a report that there are people there who insist the Czarowitch has refused to ascend the throne and that the Czar, in order to compel him to do so, has ordered his immediate marriage to Princess Alix. The Moscovites fear that should the rumors prove true they will have to face the gravest peril possible.

The Cologne Gazette prints a St. Petersburg telegram stating the Czar has given orders for a settlement of the succession to the imperial council. He had advised that Grand Duke George, his second son, should, in view of his health, renounce his claim for the crown to Grand Duke Michael, who ought to take the oath as heir presumptive to the throne.

The Berlin Tageblatt published a telegram from Lividia asserting the betrothal of Czarowitch and Princess Alix. The former will be married tomorrow and that the marriage will be celebrated Wednesday. This hastening of the ceremony is said to be due to the rule of the Romanoffs requiring any heir presumptive to marry before ascending to the throne and to proclaim his success. On this account the proclamation of the Grand Duke Michael, that the ultimate heir apparent is generally expected. Another rule in accordance with the accession requires that when the oath of allegiance of a new Czar is administered to the troops and officials, an oath of fidelity to the heir apparent must be taken at the same time.

His APPETITE LESSESED.

ST. PETERSBURG, Oct. 22.—The bulletin issued tonight by the physicians in attendance upon the Czar says: "His Majesty slept five hours intermittently. He rose this morning as usual. His appetite has lessened. His strength has not increased."

A CRISIS EXPECTED.

LONDON, Oct. 22.—The Standard's St. Petersburg correspondent sends the following message: "Today's bulletin is of the same unsatisfactory nature as the former ones. Every day it is surmised that no motion of the pulse or temperature is made; in short, there is no clue as to what the disease is from which the Czar is suffering. It is rumored that an operation is contemplated. Another story has it that the malady is expected to reach a crisis within the next day or two, but as in the opinion of many it is even the best informed are ignorant."

The Official Gazette announces that Princess Alix arrived at Lividia this afternoon, but does not publish a word about the marriage. From what can be learned, no marriage is likely, but there will be a series of formal ceremonies which will receive the benediction of the Czar, and which, it is understood, will effectually bind the Czarowitch and Princess until there can be a wedding ceremony with the pomp befitting the union.

PRINCESS ALIX AND THE CZARINA.

ST. PETERSBURG, Oct. 22.—Princess Alix arrived at Lividia tonight. The Czarina accompanied her to the chapel of the castle, where both prayed earnestly that the life of the Czar be spared. The Czarina looked careworn, but she walked with a assistance. All statements that Her Majesty has been stricken with paralysis or apoplexy are false.

THE CZAROWITCH'S OPINION.

PARIS, Oct. 22.—The Journal des Débats says the Czarowitch telegraphed to a prominent person in Venice that his father's condition is not very alarming.

THE PRAYER OFFERINGS.

LONDON, Oct. 22.—A dispatch to the Times from St. Petersburg says that besides the offering of prayer for the recovery of the Czar in all the churches, the holy synod decreed that there be prayers for the same and others in the army and navy and on board squadrons.

Archbishop Maghile has ordered prayers in all the Catholic churches. Prince Mestchetsky's Citizen is the first newspaper to break the dead silence inflicted on the press by the censors, uttering expressions of grief because of the Czar's illness. That paper gives a graphic description of solemn and pathetic service of prayer within the ancient walls of the Cathedral of the Assumption in the Kremlin at Moscow. It adds that these prayers will be continued until God listens to the supplications.

The Times' Vienna correspondent telegraphs that it is announced from Sofia that no special services had been held there for the recovery of the Czar. The clergy appear to have been instructed from headquarters.

AN AMELIORATING.

PARIS, Oct. 22.—The Galignani Messenger says that Grand Duke Vladimir, brother of the Czar, telegraphed the following message from Lividia this afternoon: "During the last few days there has been an amelioration in the condition of His Majesty. His condition is always grave."

A TEMPORARY RALLY.

ST. PETERSBURG, Oct. 22.—Advises from Lividia regarding the Czar intimate that the slight rally reported yesterday was temporary.

SOMEWHAT STRONGER.

COPENHAGEN, Oct. 22.—Private advices from Lividia today say the Czar has passed a good night and is somewhat stronger today.

A BAD ATTACK.

LONDON, Oct. 22.—The Globe of this afternoon publishes a dispatch from Paris saying that the Czar had a bad attack of hysteria yesterday and scarcely leaves the sickroom of the Czar, and hardly be induced to take repose. It is feared that the Czarina will lose her reason, if her anxiety is protracted for any considerable time.

ON THE ARKANSAW.

A Tornado of no Small Proportions Ravages the Country.

ARKANSAS CITY (Kan.), Oct. 22.—Reports just coming in tell of the ravages of a tornado of no small proportions, which struck Gueda Springs, eight miles west, on the Arkansas River, late on Saturday evening. Much damage was done to farms and crops, and it is feared that serious reports will be received when telegraphic communication is resumed. As far as known, there were no fatalities. Two people are known to have been injured. The property loss will aggregate nearly $100,000.

The tornado struck Gueda Springs from the southwest, and continued in a north-easterly direction till it reached Winfield before spending its force. In its course it laid low farmhouses, out-buildings, crops and trees. In Gueda Springs the springs bath-house, which cost $60,000, was partially wrecked, and the Airlight two-story brick block was unroofed. The stores of M. A. Wells and Tom Royal were totally destroyed. Mrs. Royal's business block and the Gilbert Block also suffered much damage. Mrs. Royal's house caught in the wreck of the bath-house, and almost buried beneath a pile of brick and mortar. Miraculously, however, she escaped serious injury. Dr. Duffield was seriously, but not fatally, hurt by being thrown from a bus.

At Salt City, a hamlet near Gueda Springs, much damage was done, but no one was injured. E. Weller, living two miles west, got his family into his carriage, and had just closed the door when the house exploded. The man was imprisoned for twelve hours, but finally escaped without suffering injury. From this point through the country to Winfield the storm was about two miles wide. In that stretch are many fine farmhouses, and many farmers lost nearly all their stock. In Winfield the storm broke up, and several business houses were unroofed. The large Baden warehouse was completely wrecked, and the Southwest Kansas College was more or less damaged.

The exact toll is not known, but body count is about $20,000.

In Gueda Springs,

WITH FIRM RANKS.

The New York Republicans are Confident.

They Look on Serenely While the Democrats Fight it Out.

Vice-President Stevenson's Tour of Missouri—Ex-Speaker Reed on
"Alexander Hamilton"—A Bowery Contest.

Associated Press Leased-wire Service.

NEW YORK. Oct. 22.—The Republican managers of the State campaign, while actively at work pushing their cause in all parts of the State, are unable to find any distressing indications in their ranks, and in serene confidence are watching the attempts of their Democratic adversaries to adjust and harmonize the factional disturbances with which they are beset on all sides, and especially in this city.

Ex-President Harrison will arrive here later in the week to attend to some private business, and while he is in the city it is to see Chairman Hackett's intentions to arrange if possible to have a meeting at which Harrison will speak and at which his former running mate, Mr. Morton, now the Republican candidate for Governor, will be present.

Senator Hill spoke at Yonkers tonight.

He will speak at Brooklyn tomorrow afternoon and in New York and vicinity until Friday, when he will return to the interior of the State. A good deal will depend on the result of his visit, and the conference with the local leaders. The situation so far as the New York and Brooklyn candidates for Congress and Assembly are concerned is very critical with county Democrats opposing the Tammany Congress and Assembly candidates in this city, and the Sheppard candidates running against the regular nominees in the Brooklyn districts that were represented by Coombs. There are nine Congress districts in this city and five in Brooklyn. The opposition of county Democratic candidates jeopardized the election of from one to four Tammany candidates in this city, and the Sheppard endangers four in the districts in Brooklyn.

The margin by which the Democratic managers hope to carry the next House of Representatives is very narrow, the situation is regarded as extremely grave at Democratic headquarters. All efforts have been made to harmonize differences to prevent the possibility of Republicans slipping in through Democratic divisions who have thus far proved ineffectual.

Richard Croker and Perry Belmont, President Cleveland's ex-Minister to Spain, were at Democratic headquarters regarding this question. Senator Hill, Croker and other leaders are said to be advising the party of concession. Lieutenant Governor Sheehan, late this afternoon, gave out an interview in regard to the charge of colonization of votes made by the Republicans in which he makes counter-charges against them.

"I am Martin of Pennsylvania," he said, "I am a constant visitor at the Republican State headquarters. Personally I desire to say nothing against Mr. Martin, and would not like to charge him with participation in this business, but I can say if the same proof is obtained against him this year as we obtained in 1892, I will not be the man this time to stop the execution of the warrant. Democrats cannot be too strongly urged to be on guard for this sort of work."

DEMOCRATS TO A REPUBLICAN.

NEW YORK. Oct. 22.—Col. Strong was this afternoon waited upon by the Nominating Committee of the New York State Democracy, and was officially tendered the nomination for Mayor by the organization. George W. Steele, chief spokesman. In presenting the nomination he said in part: "You are a Republican, we are Democrats, but you enter this fight, not as a partisan leader, but as the champion of all honest citizens under whatever flag the city, and indeed the nation, of corruption, no matter under what party name they may be, under whatever guise, you are and always have been an avowed and open foe; for this we honor you. To the widest personal liberty under the law you are and always have been a champion, and for this we honor and admire you."

Col. Strong in accepting the nomination said the citizens of New York for the last six years have been governed by a corrupt ring of conspirators that had brought disgrace upon the Republic throughout the land. The exposures made by the terrible probe by Mr. Goff before the Lexow Committee had awakened the good people of the city, regardless of party affiliations to a determined effort to eradicate corruption. Col. Strong said, "I want to let you know that in clearing the all secret oath-bound-principle organizations are contrary to the spirit of our institutions, and I do not believe any party can or ought to exist when one of its cardinal principles is opposed to freedom of thought and the worship of God according to the dictates of one's own conscience."

SENATOR KYE FOR FREE WOOL.

HURON (S. D.) Oct. 22.—Senator Kye spoke to a large audience at the Courthouse in Huron this afternoon. Much of his talk was given to proving himself right in voting for free wool, which he predicted would soon be higher in price.

HILL SCORES THE REPUBLICANS.

YONKERS (N. Y.) Oct. 22.—Senator Hill was before a tremendous gathering last night. The chief meeting of the evening was held in the Music Hall, but the crowd was so great that it became necessary to have an overflow meeting, which was held in front of the City Hall. Senator Hill covered about the same ground gone over during his trip through the country.

Referring to national matters, he said the Republicans with the entire control of all branches of the national administration, had run the country into debt, a legacy that it had left to their successors, the Democrats, who had to undertake the duty of getting rid of the debt that was contracted. To this he largely attributed the hard times through which the country had just passed. Speaking of the Sherman act, he said its effects would be continued to be felt until the country has sufficient chance to shake it off as it has shaken off the law itself.

IN WILSON'S STATE.

CHARLESTON (S. C.) Oct. 22.—After the afternoon speeches Gov. McKinley and party were taken to a reception on the Chesapeake and Ohio fast train. They were met at the depot by a band and escorted to the hotel amid great enthusiasm. The evening meeting was held in the large opera-house, which was packed with 3000 enthusiastic people. Hundreds were unable to get in.

The appearance of Gov. McKinley on the stage was the signal for a great demonstration. His speech was a strong plea for protective tariff principles. He spoke about an hour and a half, and was followed by ex-Secretary Elkins of West Virginia.

BRECKINRIDGE FOR SENATOR.

LEXINGTON (Oct. 22.—At Winchester Col. Breckinridge spoke to several thousand people. The colonel spoke in favor of Democratic nominees for the district and county offices. Winchester is in the Tenth Congressional District. Judge William Breckinridge and Joe Kendall are the short and long term candidates.

The colonel's reception signifies that he will prove a dangerous factor in the race for United States Senator. The people of Martinsburg, where Col. Breckinridge spoke last Saturday, have since instructed the prospective members of the Legislature from Carter and Elliott counties to vote for Col. Breckinridge for United States Senator.

ONE OBJECTIONABLE CANDIDATE

WITHDRAWS.

NEW YORK. Oct. 22.—At Democratic headquarters today it was announced that Philip Wissig, Tammany-Democrat candidate for Assembly, had decided to withdraw from the race, leaving "Silver Dollar Smith," the aldermanic nominee, to whom Candidate Grant also took exception, says he will not withdraw. A conference of Democratic managers will be held today to consider the situation in those districts in which there are two Democratic candidates. Senator Franklin, chairman of the Democratic Congress Campaign Committee, and Senator Hill are expected to attend.

A NOISY RECEPTION.

HUNTINGTON (W. Va.) Oct. 22.—Gov. McKinley was up at 6 o'clock today, bawling acknowledgments to a goodly crowd at Sterling, Ky. There was no time for a speech. At Ashland, near the dividing line between Kentucky and West Virginia, cannon were fired, and several hundred men, women and children hurled abuse. A final speech was made, and the train rolled on to Cincinnati, Ky., where there was another noisy canon.

The Vice-President began by saying he had read in a Republican paper a few days ago that the Democratic party was dead, but, judging from the immense crowd before him, it was again at the resurrection. After thanking Gov. Stone and the audience, the magnificient reception accorded him is a sign of the beneficial effect of the Democratic organization and the good results it had brought to the consumers of sugar, salt and lumber. The speech lasted more than an hour and all this time the audience was wildly enthusiastic. He left here after his speech on the special car for St. Joseph, where he spent the night.

Several thousand people were in the audience that listened to Gov. McKinley as he spoke this afternoon at Huntington, from a platform erected in a large lot, with the roads and the Ohio River bridge in the background.

No special reference was made to Congressman Wilcox, contrary to general expectation, though the tariff law on which he is the author was vigorously assailed. The Governor frankly stated that there was no such thing as a minimum tariff law of 1890, but insisted that they were all on the side of America. The Wilson law is found to contain more than six hundred errors, but none of them is in the interest of America.

"They did not legislate for America even by accident," exclaimed McKinley.

NOT A CANDIDATE.

CAMDEN (N. J.) Oct. 22.—Gov. Leon Abbott has written a letter announcing that he is not a candidate for the United States Senate, in succession to Senator McPherson.

EX-SPEAKER REED.

TOPEKA (Kan.) Oct. 22.—A telegram from ex-speaker Thomas B. Reed, re-telling him of his nomination as a representative, complimenting Congressman Hall and briefly reviewing the work of Congress, saying that $30, now equals $100 under the McKinley law, taxes having been reduced in proportion. The crowd here numbered about 3000 and was very demonstrative.

CROWDS AT ALL STATIONS.

ST. JOSEPH (Mo.) Oct. 22.—When Vice-President Stevenson reached Hamilton, an immense crowd greeted the visitor. Eight thousand people cheered him as he stepped to the platform. Vice-President Stevenson spoke three minutes and as the train passed he stopped to shake hands with the next stop was at Cameron, and the Vice-President was given a royal reception. There were 10,000 people at the depot.

When Stevenson appeared on the platform and was introduced by Congressman Dockery, he thanked the assemblage for the cooperation, but refused to go to national affairs. Just before the train left a delegation of ladies sent a magnificent floral design. At all the stations great crowds of people were gathered, who cheered as the train sped by.

STOPPING THE LOOMS.

ST. JOSEPH (Mo.) Oct. 22.—Amid the barking of cannon and the cheers of 10,000 lusty-lunged Missourians, the Vice-President's train pulled into the Union Depot. The platform and railroad yards adjacent were black with people, who pushed and jostled each other to see the arrival of the vice-president.

THE TRAIN STEAMED INTO THE VANTAGE.

As the train steamed into the vantage the Fourth Regiment N.G.M., with fixed bayonets, cleared an avenue through which the Vice-President and his escort passed to the carriages. The party was met as they stepped from the train by a reception committee, headed by State Commissioner Davis and made up of leading wholesale merchants of the city. Four full bands were stationed at different points of the depot grounds and as the party left the train discoursed stirring music.

A INFORMER'S HEARING.

NEW YORK, Oct. 22.—James P. Archibald, who was recently charged by the Central Labor Union with being a spy and an informer, has been given a hearing before a committee of the Central Labor Union to determine what Kerrigan had to say. He stated that he was ready to produce three witnesses next Sunday, and present his charges against Secretary Archibald. Then he confessed that he had not seen Secretary Archibald shipping a load of union men to the strike on the previous Sunday. He said that everything that occurred on the previous Sunday was a mistake. He had also stated that Archibald was a member of the Dublin Men's Association. A member of that body present proved that Archibald was not a member.

The committee returned to the hall with informed decision.

THE DELEGATES TOOK UP THE CHARGE.

In presenting Mr. Stevenson to the audience Judge Spencer in a graceful manner, regretted the fact that 10,000 eager Missourians were unable to obtain entrance to gain an entrance, and for whom overflow meetings were then being held. It is estimated that 30,000 strangers were in the city. Fred W. Lehman of St. Louis, Congressman, and Governor of Missouri, was a speaker. The protestant Republicans, however, were inexorable and Missourians, was put in nomination. Then Campbell, who had been a candidate and had himself nominated by petition and subsequently by a so-called Republican convention, which the Republicans of the district claim was irregular. The protesting Republicans held a convention also, in which John Simpson was nominated for Congress.

The question as to which of these conventions was regular was submitted to a characteristic anecdote illustrating the superiority of the methods of the Democratic party. He showed that it was the understanding of all that of the time he should step gracefully aside and make room for C. Miner, a Bowery theater manager with political aspirations, to succeed to the place. When the time came, however, Campbell insisted of his agreement and insisted on just one term more in Congress. The Tammany managers, however, were inexorable and Miner was put in nomination. Then Campbell, who had himself nominated by petition and subsequently by a so-called Republican convention, which the Republicans of the district claim was irregular. The protesting Republicans held a convention also, in which John Simpson was nominated for Congress.

JAMES H. BUDD'S RECORD.

From the San Francisco Post of last Saturday is reprinted in today's issue of The Times a page of matter under the heading of: "James H. Budd—Starting Chapter in His History—Records of the Oregon Court—Charged With Betraying His Ward and Forgiving a Will—The Victim Dies in the Pesthouse of San Francisco—Budd Compromises the Case After Fighting it on Technical Grounds."

The San Francisco Examiner of Sunday stated that the publication of this record in the Evening Post was inspired by the Southern Pacific Company, and that the Post was under the editorial management of William H. Mills. Mr. Mills publishes a card denouncing all editorial relation with the Post, and in an interview declares that the statement that the Southern Pacific Company is opposing the election of Budd, or making Este's fight, or interfering to elect or defeat either, is simply untrue. The matter was also handled editorially in the Sacramento Record-Union of the 21st, and the gist of its editorial was wired to The Times yesterday.

The charges are denied by Arthur Rodgers (Democrat) in a card published in the Examiner, and also by Budd himself in a dispatch to the same paper.

The Los Angeles Times has been requested to make these denials and statements public, and now does so, at the same time reprinting from the San Francisco Post the matter in question, in order that the public may know what the dispute is about, what the charges are that have been made, and the authorship of which is denied by Mr. Mills; the nature of the record against Mr. Budd, and the evidence adduced in support of it. When these charges shall have been disproved by the Democratic candidate for Governor, The Times will give publicity to the proofs.

THE CONTEST FOR CONGRESS.

James McLachlan is making a vigorous campaign, and if intelligent, well-directed effort will win, he is certain to be the next Congressman for the Sixth District. There is every reason to believe that Mr. McLachlan's campaign efforts are proving effective. He makes a good impression upon the voters, an impression that is strengthened instead of weakened the more the people come in contact with him. One strong and winning characteristic of his campaign work is his manifest sincerity. It is impossible for the voters who hear him to have any doubts about the sincerity of his declarations upon public questions or the policy upon which he will act if elected. He evades no issue. All his declarations are straightforward and unequivocal. He speaks as one who is sure of his ground and has the courage of his convictions.

Mr. McLachlan held two meetings yesterday, one at Covina at 2 o'clock in the afternoon, and one at Glendora in the evening. At Covina there was a large audience of ranchers and fruit-growers. The meeting was held at the Town Hall, which was crowded to its full capacity. There was no mistaking the favorable impression that Mr. McLachlan made by his clear, candid and convincing argument upon campaign issues. The audience showed its appreciation by the unstinted applause with which the speaker's telling points were greeted. The effects upon the industries of the Covina section, of the Demo-Populist tariff bill were clearly explained, and the words of the speaker evidently reached the convictions of those who heard him.

The evening meeting at Glendora was also a big one. The residents of the Azusa Valley were there in force. The speech here was necessarily much like that at Covina, with such additions and modifications as made it locally applicable. Mr. McLachlan evidently convinced his audience that the tariff is vitally related to the welfare of their material interests, as they roundly applauded the points made against the abortion known as the Wilson bill.

Mr. McLachlan's party embraced Gen. A. B. Campbell and Candidates Bury, Kelsey, Fleming and Hodgman.

JUDGE TORRANCE.

For the office of Justice of the Supreme Court, long term, one of the Republican nominees is Superior Judge E. S. Torrance of San Diego.

This is an office of dignity, the duties of which imply great responsibility. In balloting for men to fill it, voters should first take into consideration the nominee's personal character, and after that his professional qualifications.

In nominating Judge Torrance the Republican party of California presented a candidate who is in every way worthy of the people's confidence and support. His personal character is above reproach. His social qualities are agreeable, his manner dignified, urbane and unassuming. He is of the people and in sympathy with his fellow-men. He is a member of the Grand Army of the Republic and a Knight Templar. In his personal character Judge Torrance is lacking in no element of strength.

Professionally, Judge Torrance's qualifications for a position upon the Supreme Bench of the State are among the best. He is well educated, both generally and professionally. He possesses a judicial mind. Wherever he has lived he has been called by the people to occupy a judicial office. For eight years he held the office of District Judge in the Thirteenth Judicial District of the State of Kansas, and he has served for four years as Judge of the Superior Court of San Diego county. The district over which he presided in Kansas was large and populous, embracing six counties, with a population of over 160,000, one of the counties being Sedgwick, of which Wichita is the county-seat. He filled the office in the county-seat. He presided in Kansas so acceptably that when he moved to San Diego he was appointed to the bench of the Superior Court of San Diego county. that there plaintiff, fearing the consequences of such a step, and desirous of keeping their said daughter at home and protecting her from her disagree by giving her a valuable property, all of which was done at the time of her birth, and thereby her son's protection did, on said November 8, 1876, make and deliver to her said said deed for one-sixth of their said property as before stated.

That notwithstanding all this, their said daughter obeyed the said Budd, and went to San Francisco, Cal., and in one month thereafter, in February, 1877, she died, without ever having been married; that their said daughter, Nancy, was at the time of her death of the age of 19 and less than 20 years; that she died of an abortion, committed upon her while she was under the control, as aforesaid, of the said Budd; that after said abortion she was removed to the smallpox hospital to die; that about midnight of the 14th day of February, 1877, she died, which was the consequence of the act, and unable to lift her hand, the said Budd, with cold-blooded atrocious, crowded his way and hastened into the chamber of the said victim, and procured the fangs of a pen being placed between her fingers, while her name was being written by a noted without her vision to whom he reported that a will in favor of James Hubert Budd, and caused a mark to be made as for her signature, although she was well educated, and wrote a good, legible hand when in life, and that shortly thereafter, during the same month, after the death of their said daughter, died on the 15th day of February, 1877; that the name of said defendant is James Herbert Budd, and these plaintiffs believe that the use of the name Hubert was a device concocted by said defendant on the night of her death (and after he had died) to make it appear that he had given away one-sixth of plaintiff's said land) whereby he intended to deceive her into signing said hastily-prepared will if she had been conscious.

SIDNEY DEL,
Plaintiff's Attorney.

Order of Court on Motion to Strike Out.

In the Circuit Court of the State of Oregon, for the County of Multnomah: Marcus Neff and Margaret J. Neff, his wife, plaintiffs, vs. James H. Budd, defendant.

To the above plaintiffs and Del Gardner, their attorneys: I hereby give notice that said defendant, James H. Budd, hereby enters his appearance in the cause named, cause of action, at Portland, Multnomah county, Oregon, this 23d day of July, A. D. 1883. FRED V. HOLMAN, Attorney for Defendant.

Stipulation.

In the Circuit Court of the State of Oregon, for the County of Multnomah: Marcus Neff and Margaret J. Neff, his wife, plaintiffs, vs. James H. Budd, defendant.

A petition having been duly filed by the defendant in the above entitled cause on the 20th day of November, 1883, praying for the removal thereof into the Circuit Court of the United States in and for the District of Oregon, to-wit: that the laws of the United States in such case made and provided, and the said petitioner having also made and filed with said petition a bond, with good and sufficient surety for his entering in said Circuit Court of the United States if (said court) should hold that he had sued him wrongfully or improperly removed thereby.

Now, on motion of Fred V. Holman, attorney for said defendant herein, it is hereby ordered that this court accept the said bond and surety offered by the petitioner (the said defendant) and that this cause be wholly removed and transferred for trial to another, other proceedings to be had in the said Circuit Court of the United States in and for the District of Oregon.

In open court.

RALEIGH STOTT, Judge.

November 10, 1883.

Order of Removal of Suit to United States Court.

Be it remembered, that at a regular term of the Circuit Court of the State of Oregon, for the County of Multnomah, before the Honorable George C. Conner, in the city of Portland, in said county and State, on Monday, the 21st day of January, A. D. 1884, the same being the third Monday in said month, and the time fixed by law for holding a regular term of said court. Present: Hon. Seneca Smith, Judge presiding.

Witness, a term of said court is begun and held on Thursday, the 10th day of April, A. D. 1884, the same being the seventh judicial day of said term of said court, and, among other proceedings the following was had, to-wit:

In the Circuit Court of the State of Oregon, for the County of Multnomah: Marcus Neff and Margaret J. Neff, plaintiffs, vs. James H. Budd, defendant.

Now, at this time come the plaintiffs above named by Sidney Dell, Esq., their attorney, and the defendant above named by Fred V. Holman, his attorney, and it appearing to the court that the parties to the suit were present, on the 20th day of November, 1883, the said defendant filed a power of attorney, a petition and bond, for the removal of the above entitled cause to the Circuit Court of the United States for the District of Oregon, which said removal was ordered by the court by order duly made and entered, and the same was fixed for the 20th day of November, 1883. And it further appearing to the court that the respective parties hereto, by their respective attorneys, have agreed that said defendant may withdraw from the files of this court said power of attorney, said petition and bond, and that said cause may be annulled and set aside, and that said cause may be dismissed at the cost of plaintiff.

Now, therefore, it is ordered and adjudged that said order be and the same is hereby in all things annulled and set aside, and it is further ordered that said defendant leave without bond or power of attorney, and bond from this date of this court, and it is further ordered that the above entitled cause be and the same is hereby dismissed without the costs of the defendant and at the cost of plaintiff.

(Signed) SENECAS SMITH, Judge.

I, William R. Sewall, County Clerk and Clerk of the Circuit Court of the County of Multnomah and State of Oregon, do hereby certify that the foregoing copy of judgment order was served by me personally on the defendant, and that it is a correct transcript therof, and of the whole of such original judgment order, as the same appears of record at my office and in my custody.

Twenty-first—And the words "and being otherwise menaced and threatened by said Budd" on lines 21 and 22 on said page 9.

Eighteenth—And the words "that at the same time he fraudulently obtained possession of certain lands to said Robert Fisher in Iowa and Illinois to which he was entitled, as their own, and never yielded any possession whatever under said deeds to said Budd."

That afterwards, in the spring of 1883, the said defendant, conspiring with certain persons, and sojourned upon the property of these plaintiffs, and in point of fact originated a partition suit between himself and other holders of the legal titles to said land, and had, by fraud, procured a decree for partition ignoring said rights of these plaintiffs, and thereby these plaintiffs employed counsel to protect their rights, and therewith, on our demand, a release of the said deeds to them" on page 7.

Fifteenth—And the words "and being otherwise menaced and threatened by said Budd" on lines 21 and 22 on said page 9.

Eighteenth—And the words "that at the same time he fraudulently obtained possession of certain lands to said Robert Fisher in Iowa and Illinois to which he was entitled, as their own, and never yielded any possession whatever under said deeds to said Budd."

That upon the identification of the said defendant, threatened to have her arrested for mutilating a public document, and to have her sent to the State prison, and therupon and thereby, and by other means and fraudulent conduct, he fraudulently induced and coerced the plaintiffs to execute and record on March 18, 1876, a said property, purporting to be in consideration of $1 paid by said Budd, and of love and affection for said children, and in confirmation of said mutilated deed, but without any consideration whatever, which deed last named the said Budd caused to be recorded in book No. 33, on page 176, of the records of deeds of said county.

That the said plaintiffs were at all of said times, since 1875, in possession of and actually living upon the said donation and claim, and have continued ever since so to live upon the premises, and in paying the taxes thereon as their own, and never yielded any possession whatever under said deeds to said Budd.

That afterwards, in the spring of 1883, the said defendant, conspiring with certain persons, and sojourned upon the property of these plaintiffs, and in point of fact originated a partition suit between himself and other holders of the legal titles to said land, and had, by fraud, procured a decree for partition ignoring said rights of these plaintiffs, and thereby these plaintiffs employed counsel to protect their rights, and therewith, on our demand, a release of the said deeds to them" on page 7.

THE NATIONAL BANK OF CALIFORNIA.

The National Bank of California is the bank that successfully stood the shock of the late panic and maintained full coin payments.

The National Bank of California pays no interest on deposits in any form, offers no special inducements for business other than reliability when the customers exercise their right to demand their money.

In the matter of loans it looks more to reliability than high rates of interest, and desires that no bank's better or more reliable than its loans.

AGAIN IN JAIL.

ALVA JOHNSON ONCE MORE BEHIND THE BARS.

Taken into Custody on Suspicion of Being Implicated in the Roscoe Train-robbery.

Alva Johnson, a resident of the Tehujas, was again arrested yesterday upon suspicion of being concerned in the Roscoe train-robbery, and is now confined in the middle tank of the County Jail. He was arrested a few miles north of Newhall yesterday afternoon en route to the new mines with a negro, by Constable Frank Dowler of Palmdale.

Dowler, it will be remembered, was one of the first men arrested on suspicion after the train-robbery, but was discharged, there being no evidence to warrant his being held. Since the confession of Etzel to Detective McCarty at Phoenix, Ariz., however, the officers claim to have all the necessary to insure Johnson's conviction.

When taken to the County Jail last night by Constable Dowler, Johnson appeared to feel his arrest very keenly, but refused to be interviewed or to discuss the train-robbery with either his captor, or the jail officials. He will probably be arraigned today.

THE SINGLE TAXERS.

An Address by Col. John R. Berry—Other Speakers.

Col. John R. Berry, late collector of the Port of San Diego, addressed an interested audience at the Single-tax Club's meeting in Unity Church last evening on the subject of "The Goldbug Bear." He took a pronounced stand in favor of a bimetallic standard in this country, independent of the wishes of other nations, that the demonetization of silver began in England in 1816 and had culminated in this country under Grant in 1873; that to this course could be traced the distress now prevailing; that specie resumption caused a stringency, and business increased the volume of currency became essential.

Ira B. Wood responded briefly to Mr. Berry, holding that the continued reiteration of the assertion that the demonetization of silver by this country in 1873 had produced a panic in the Industrial world had made some believe it to be safe, although never so demonstrated. As a fact, the act of 1873 recognized that in the minds of the people it had already been demonetized. In 1865 President Jefferson stopped the coinage temporarily because of the decline in the silver need.

The whole sum issued up to 1873 was only $8,000,000. It is plain the failure to provide for its coinage when so little was called for, could not produce such stupendous results. The resumption act really added $44,000,000 to the silver money. Under the Allison and Sherman acts $35,000,000 had been coined. It is not more money that is needed, but more circulation of the money.

A number of questions about the Georgia theory were answered by Clarence A. Miller and Ralph E. Hoyt.

SHOT HIMSELF.

Suicide of Jules Bordes on the Public Street.

At 2:15 o'clock yesterday afternoon Jules Bordes, a Frenchman, committed suicide by shooting himself in the right temple at the corner of Arcadia and Los Angeles streets. While none saw the act committed there were a number of people in the vicinity at the time who heard the shot and rushed to the man's assistance after he fell to the ground. As he was still alive the patrol wagon was summoned and he was conveyed to the receiving hospital, but he never recovered consciousness, and died while en route to the hospital.

Antonio Lugo, who figured as the principal in the "shooting affair" Sunday afternoon, has evidently called at the regular meeting of the Board of Education last night, only two members, Mrs. Hushee and Dr. Le Moyne Willis, were present, and as none of the others made their appearance up to 8:30 o'clock, the meeting went over for one week.

A little girl was run over by an election team about noon yesterday at Sixth and Hill streets, and pretty badly hurt. She was confined to her home at No. 424 South Hope street, where she received proper medical attention.

John Bryson, Sr., when asked about the suit for damages brought against him by W. W. Lamberton, said the whole matter was for the purpose of trying to get money out of him, and that he intended to fight it to the last before he would pay a cent.

In the house opposite for the regular meeting of the Board of Education last night, only two members, Mrs. Hushee and Dr. Le Moyne Willis, were present, and as none of the others made their appearance up to 8:30 o'clock, the meeting went over for one week.

meeting of the Board of Education last night, only two members, Mrs. Hushee and Dr. Le Moyne Willis, were present, and as none of the others made their appearance up to 8:30 o'clock, the meeting went over for one week.

White marching with the party which nominated the Democratic nominee for the Mayoralty at 11:30 o'clock last night, George Welly, an employee of the street department, was accidentally pushed into the cellar of the California Bank building at the corner of Second and Broadway. He was taken to the Receiving Hospital, where his injuries were found to be a nasty cut on the forehead and a broken wrist, were attended to by Police Surgeon Bryant.
